

Angel
(Greb)

I saw an angel fall from the sky
Golden messenger down from on high
It spoke in words I could not understand
But it calmed my nerves with a wave of its hand

Then I saw something deep in its eyes
I saw the truth behind all the lies
As it reached for me I started to scream
Then I awoke from this nightmarish dream

Wherever I go no matter what the place
In all that I look at I see the angel's face
In walls and in streets, in the grill of a car
It's there in the shadows at the back of the bar

Just when I think I'm rid of it and it's gone
It shows up on TV and I know that I'm gone
There is no escape it haunts me at every turn
With a malevolent gaze it threatens my soul to burn
