

Fool for You No More

(Greb)

(Chorus)

I'll be a fool for you no more / And I'm showin' you the door
Get yourself out of my face / And your ass out of my place
I've been a fool for those eyes / I've fallen for your lies
But I'll be a fool for you no more / And I'm showin' you the door

The dinner was late and your eyes full of hate
As the dish flew past my forehead
You called me a creep and that needle struck deep
As you screamed you wish I were dead
Baby, I cried, someone has lied
And filled you with these ideas
But I'm tellin' you, honey, if I had the money
I ship your ass off to Korea

(Chorus)

I'd pull out my hair or sit there and stare
If I thought it would do any good
But it's patently absurd you don't hear a word
And your heart is made out of wood
Hardship and strife is the story of my life
And it keeps gettin' worse every year
Loving devotion is a foreign emotion
My mind's been crippled by fear

(Chorus)

My balls are in oil turned up to a boil
And my head is caught in a spin
My friends ask what's wrong but the story's too long
And I don't know where to begin
I get crazy and think to hell with this stink
I'll take back all those things that I've said
Then I regain my composure and want only closure
Or maybe to just see you dead

(Chorus)
