

I See You
(Greb)

I've seen the abyss / Eternity looking back
I've seen the future / And the future is black
I've smelled the sulfur / On the hot breath of hell
The flames of perdition / The tormented's yell

The jaws yawn open / And we hang by a thread
It overwhelms us / With trembling and dread
Momentary suspension / Inevitable pain
The fleeting illusions / We need to keep sane

(Chorus)

I see you, I see you looking at me
Devoid of compassion, vast as the sea
I see you, I see you looking back
I see your heart, your heart is black

Can't escape the conclusion / The ending is clear
We try to pretend / That it's not always near
The mirror compels us / The ego divides
Mean self-importance / The future to hide

I've seen the ugly / Now I can't look away
It burns in my nostrils / Like the stench of decay
It calls to me nightly / Like a lover's dream
In the world where I travel / You can't hear me scream

Chorus
